Mechanism to deal with Internal Examination related Grievances

- Orientation programs at the start of the academic year explain the internal assessment process to students.
- A dedicated examination committee handles grievances related to internal assessments.
- Evaluated answer scripts and assignments are returned to students for review, and discrepancies are promptly addressed by faculty.
- Unresolved grievances are escalated to the principal, ensuring a hierarchical and time-bound resolution process.
- Regular faculty-student meetings provide an avenue to discuss and clarify doubts related to assessments.
